FEDERAL RULING IS IN LINE WITH ORDER BY JUDGE AGE

Sheriff H. C. Peterson and deputies are deeply concerned over the recent ruling of the circuit court of appeals regarding automobiles and other vehicles seized in carrying contraband liquor, which are held to be subject to confiscation and sale by the officers, the money to go to the state or the government.

A similar ruling was made by Judge Alfred W. Agee in the district court about three months ago, when he directed Sheriff Peterson to confiscate the liquor seized and offer the automobiles for sale. One of the automobiles offered for sale by the sheriff recently was that of Dr. V. P. Nelson, the Salt Lake chiropractor, who was arrested in Weber canyon. The car was sold for $600. It was stated the car now cost about $1250.

The sheriff has two other automobiles, being held the customary length of time before offering them for sale. The ruling of the federal court upon the subject of automobiles or vehicles of any kind says that whether borrowed, stolen or procured under any other conditions, or circumstances, does not exempt them from seizure and sale.

The officers say the thing for automobile owners is to keep their cars in their own possession and the minute they leave their possession, by auto thieves, to report the same to the officers and that may mean the recovery of the cars. An example of this case was shown in the arrest of Edward Rust for bootlegging with an auto stolen from Blackfoot, Idaho. Before the arrest of Rust the members of the sheriff's office were advised of the theft of the auto. When recovered the car was returned to the owner and the thief was taken back to Idaho to face a felony charge.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR TO MARCH TO DEPOT AND WELCOME THE RIGHT EMINENT COMMANDER

Impressive ceremonies will mark the visit tonight of W. F. Adams, right eminent grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Utah, Knights Templar, who will pay the regular annual official visit to El Monte Commandery, No. 2, F. & A. M.

As guests of the Ogden lodge, and as special escort of the grand commander on the trip to Ogden, will be Utah Commandery No. 1 and Victory Commandery, both of Salt Lake. They will accompany the exalted guest in a body.

This annual visit of the right eminent commander to Ogden is always one of especial importance and is marked with unusual ceremonial splendor. Special plans have been made this year to make the event an imposing spectacle.

The El Monte Commandery, of which Angus Kennedy is eminent commander, will march in a body to the Bamberger interurban station to receive the royal guest and his escort and welcome them to the Temple, where a special program of musical numbers, speaking, dining and exemption of the work will be given.

Before the train arrives, Ogden lodge will hold a meeting to perform part of the degree work of the commandery, after which the entire guard will form and march to the depot, where special ceremonies will be staged in the welcome extended to the guests.

The welcome at the station will be solely of military character, in keeping with the order. The El Monte commandery will be formed in guard line with drawn swords and will stand at "present arms" in honor of the grand commander and also in separate honor to the other guests, as the bodies march in review.

Commander Kennedy will present his sword to the grand commander, as significant of turning over the entire command of the function to him. The sword will be received in recognition of the honor, but soon thereafter will be returned with orders to the El Monte commander to take official charge of the ceremonies. The march to the temple will then take place.

Mexico Subject
Of Discussion in City of Paris

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Refusal by Mexico to recognize the financial clause of the armistice terms by which Germany pledged herself to the allies not to dispose of any of her stocks in specie, or any of her foreign title deeds or bonds abroad, whether in the possession of the government, banks or private individuals or companies, is a subject of discussion in Paris. It was learned today at the state department. Any action taken in the matter will be for the present directed by the representatives of the associated governments, and not by the United States on its own initiative. Action of some kind, however, is looked for as soon as the peace treaty is out of the way.

Mexico made known her attitude in a reply to M. F. De Jean, French chargé d'affaires, who in the name of the French government warned the Mexican government of the determination of the allies not to permit Germany to profit in any way by the sale of securities and thus cheat the allies of part of the damage indemnification that was to be demanded of Germany. This was agreed to by Germany in signing the armistice terms, but the Carranza government repudiated that action on part of Mexico in preventing any such sales, would violate the terms of a treaty between Mexico and Germany and that the Mexican government would not accede to the request of the allies.

RABBIT CLUB AT THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL IS A SUCCESS

The Rabbit club recently organized at the state industrial school by County Director of Boys' and Girls Clubs A. L. Tippetts has met with such success and enthusiasm at the hands of the boys at the school that the Rabbit club idea is to be extended to the older boys of the school, according to Mr. Tippetts. The new club is to consist of ten members.

Under the present plan, rabbits are supplied to the boys by means of funds from the school. As the rabbits increase and the boys begin to realize profits, they pay the institution for the cost of the rabbits originally furnished them. The boys then have all the profits for themselves that they receive.

PROVISION FOR PUNISHMENT OF ENEMY OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Specific provision for punishment of individual enemy officers and officials who order, or permit, violations of the established rules of war is found in "rules of land warfare," the official handbook of the United States government on this subject. Under the heading "Punishment of Individuals," the following passage occurs:

Commanders ordered commission of such acts or under whose authority they are committed may be punished by the belligerent to whose hands they fall.

Offenses listed against the military forces of the central powers, it was said, may be grouped under three general heads:

Crimes against opposing armies;

crimes against opponents in marine industry; crimes against non-combatants and civilians.

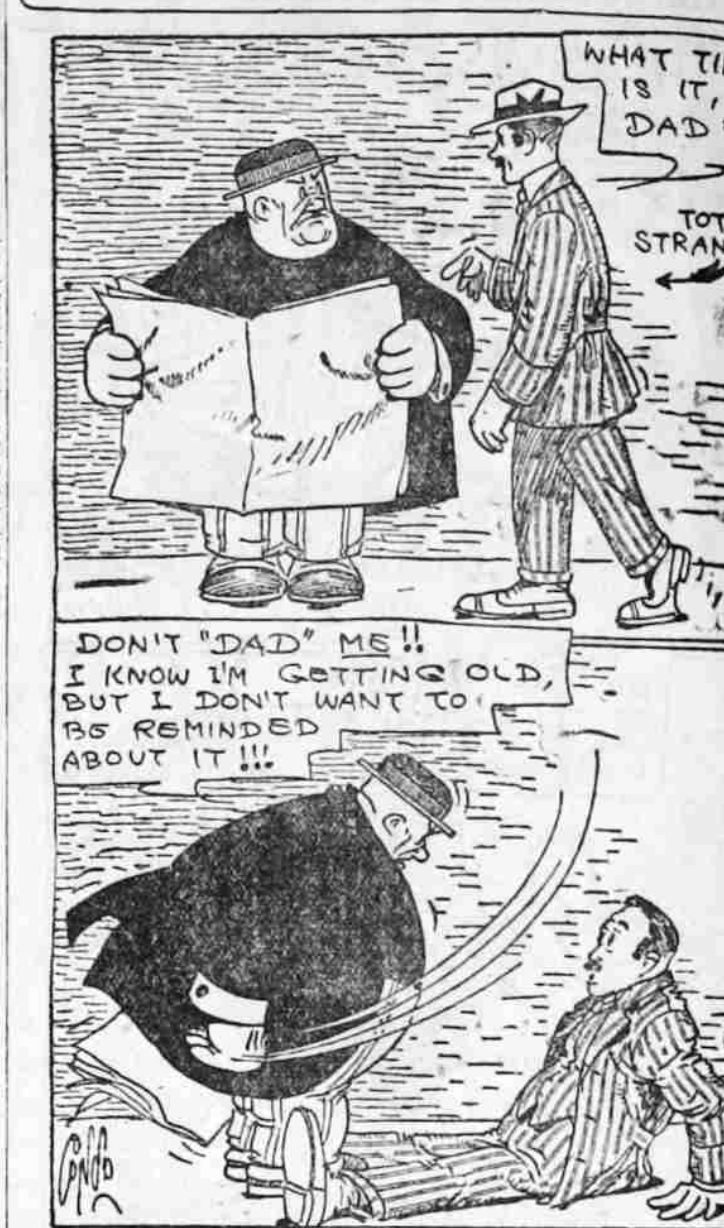

Under the first group would come the employing "protectors" which have for their object the diffusion of asphyxiating, or deleterious gases prohibited in The Hague convention of 1907; use of mushroom bullets and other weapons tending to cause unnecessary suffering, prohibited in The Hague conventions of 1907; destruction of Red Cross and hospital personnel and material; pollution of water supply sources, and misuse of flags of truce.

Crimes committed by the enemy's naval forces which would render individual officers culpable would include the sinking without warning of merchant craft, destruction under any conditions of hospital ships, bombardment of undefended ports and sinking of lifeboats and rafts laden with survivors.

Offenses against civilian populations of occupied districts, prohibited strictly in the American manual include:

Imprisoning enemy subjects en masse; expulsion of civilians from occupied territory; use of prisoner labor on operations directly connected with the war; internment under conditions of hardship; compulsory enlistment; debasement of currency;

THE OUTBURST OF EVERET TRUE

wanton destruction of property; abrogation of civil government.

While the punishment to be inflicted for such violations is not set forth in "rules of land warfare," reference is made to the severe penalties to be imposed in cases where American officers or enlisted men are guilty of any of the crimes mentioned. It is thought possible that, in cases where a military tribunal representing the United States was sitting, the law laid down to Germany to govern army marshals would be followed and the penalties in every case would be the same as provided when defendant is a member of the military establishment of this country.
